2. Introduction

The Jewish cemetery in Ichenhausen was established in 1567. It has been expanded several times and consists of four parts. In the cemetery there are still about 1,000 tombstones. The total number of those buried there in the history is estimated at 7,000 - 8,000. The cemetery was partially destroyed during Kristallnacht, many tombstones were broken. In the cemetery 18 tombstones of victims from the Jewish concentration subcamp of Burgau.

Background to this documentation Book:

My family roots from the town of Ichenhausen, the Einstein and Neuburger families with at least 10 of my direct ancestors buried there, I identified 5 of them. After i did not find any available sources for photos of the cemetery tombstones, on July 4, 2014, during a visit there I voluntarily photographed all the graves (approximately 1000) to be accessible public online. I sent the photos to JewishGen where part of them can be found. In a meeting there with a local researcher named Herbert Auer he referred me to a list he had prepared in 1980 (Ref. 1) for the new part (A) of the cemetery. He index the new area by the 9 line and the position of those buried in each line, as well as the grave numbers that are indicated behind the grave, year of birth and death. I add Auer's indicated index to this book. Not all of Auer's data can be identified at the photos as for 2014, but based on the location of the grave, it can be completed. Additional identification such as parents' names, year of birth and death can be verified also by Ref 2.

The first part of this documentation is for the new Part A (348 Pictures), from 1897 to 1946. The order is by lines of family name. The name of the photo is actually the time it was taken that day.
